LOCAL TRUCK DRIVER DIES OF INJURIES

Henry Duey Fatally Hurt When Crushed Between Truck, Wall in Toledo

FATHER OF 3
Cranked Car When It Was in Gear

Henry Anderson Duey, aged 28, of this city, was fatally injured Wednesday in Toledo when he was crushed between his truck and a stone wall. The accident occurred late in the afternoon.

Duey, a truck driver, was hauling fruit and vegetables in Toledo. He cranked his truck when it was in gear. The truck shot forward, pinning Duey against a stone wall.

Several bones in his body were broken. He died later in a Toledo hospital.

Since his birth on February 7, 1904, Duey was a resident in Pickaway-co. He was born in Circleville, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Duey.

Married to Emma Patterson Duey in Columbus in 1923, Duey was the father of three children: Sela Leoto, Treasa May and Henry Jr.

He was a member of the National Guard Home, and was an officer of the guard.

Residing with his wife and three children, Mr. Duey was a member of the church of this city, Clara Williams of Jeno, and Susie Miller of Columbus; and two brothers, William S. of this city, and Ralph of Columbus.

Funeral arrangements in charge of the W. H. Albaugh Co. have not been made.

JEALOUSY BLAMED IN SHOOTING FRAY

CHICAGO, July 7.—Jealousy and unrequited love, authorities believed today, were the motivating forces behind the shooting of William "Bill" Jurgens star shortstop of the Chicago Cubs, by Violet Valli, 21-year-old show-girl.

While both principals in this drama of an adoring girl spurned by her baseball hero were in a hospital, Captain Dennis Malloy, directing the inquiry, announced he will file charges against Miss Valli of assault with intent to kill.

The keystone of the police theory that the girl planned to kill the ball player and then take her own life rested in a note found in her room shortly after the shooting episode.

The note, addressed to Michael, a brother said in part: "To me life without Billy isn't worth living, but why should I leave this earth alone? I'm going to take Billy with me."

GIRLS CROWDED, REPORT AFFIRMS

DELAWARE, O., July 7.—Overcrowded conditions are greatly responsible for outbreaks such as have kept the Girl's Industrial school here in a turmoil since the Fourth of July, Mrs. Rose Beatty of Bowling Green superintendent of the institution, declared today.

The disturbance at the school broke out on Independence Day when a rebellious group of colored inmates went "on strike" because they felt they had been provided with insufficient food and that they had not been allowed recreation.

G. O. P. TO BEGIN CAMPAIGN JULY 11

CHICAGO, July 7.—The opening blast of the Republican campaign to reelect President Hoover will be fired at Faneuil Hall, Boston, the night of July 11 by Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills, according to an announcement here today by Everett Sanders, chairman of the Republican national committee.

"It is expected," Sanders said at his Chicago headquarters, "that Secretary Mills will give some facts with reference to the Democratic platform and the speech of acceptance of the Democratic nominee."

HARRINGTON NAMED GOVERNOR OF N. J. Harrington, Bowling Green attorney, to represent State Superintendent of Banker Ira J. Fulton in the matter of the liquidation of the Walbridge State bank at Watridge, O., was announced here today.

Who Said a Young Man's Fancy?

It appears that love not only laughs at locksmiths, but also indulges in a guffaw at Father Time occasionally. Here is Charles Woolpert, 91 years old and the last survivor of old Co. L, 12th Indiana Cavalry, shown as he filed notice of intention to wed 76-year-old Mrs. Elizabeth Hoaglin at Los Angeles. Woolpert, a retired Indiana farmer, is the father of ten children. He once had his horse shot from under him in the Civil War and was twice wounded. The venturesome couple appears supremely happy.

Kentucky Youth Finds Manner of Winning Bride Differs Up North

BATAVIA, July 7.—They don't do things up this-a-way—at the point of a shotgun—the way they're reported to do them down in Harlan-co Kentucky.

James Bowman, 25, who says he hails from Harlan-co, found that out today as he sat in jail here and tried to figure out just how he ought to have gone about winning the 17-year-old niece he was engaged to.

OFF WITH GUN
Bowman started out to do it with a shotgun—that is, he just naturally kidnapped the girl and stalled off the other members of her family with the double-barreled weapon when they objected.

The girl's uncle, George Moore, who lives on a farm four miles southeast of here, couldn't do anything about it at the time, but as soon as Bowman got out of sight with his shotgun (and Moore's 17-year-old niece) he was engaged to a posse and started after the Kentuckian.

A half-mile away, the posse found Bowman and his "bride-to-be" hiding in a muddy ravine in the hills.

SURRENDERS
Bowman surrendered willingly enough—the girl had suggested that it was probably the best thing for him to do—but he commented to his captors that he "could easily have picked any one of you off hiding there in the bushes."

Charges of abduction and pointing a firearm will probably be lodged against Bowman, Sheriff Robert Roberts said today.

Late News Flashes

SEVERE RAINSTORM
CLEVELAND, July 7.—Widespread damage to crops was feared to have resulted from a severe rainstorm accompanied by hail and thunder in some parts which struck northern Ohio and eastern Indiana regions today.

Some property damage also was reported in western Ohio in the region of Van Wert where the storm was believed to have been the most severe.

This morning the storms swept rapidly eastward over northern Ohio according to weather bureau officials here. The storm reached Cleveland with a furious gale about noon.

Sandusky reported a rainfall of 71.

MOTHER, BABY KILLED
GRAYLING, Mich., July 7.—A mother and her infant were killed by suffocation when fire destroyed their home here today.

Mrs. James Eaton, 20, had returned to bed after placing milk on a small oil stove to heat. A short time later the house was in flames. Mother and child could be seen in the bed as it fell through the blazing floor from the second to the first story.

STEARS CLEAR
ALBANY, N. Y., July 7.—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic presidential nominee, does not intend to become involved in any controversy over modification of the Volstead Law at the present session of Congress it was made clear at the Capitol today on behalf of the governor.

Spokesmen for Mr. Roosevelt pointed out that he stands four square on the Democratic platform which demanded repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and immediate modification of the Volstead Law but that he will not take the lead for any action at the present session of Congress.

70 TRAPPED IN SUB
PARIS, July 7.—The French submarine, "Pomone," sank off Cherbourg today during diving tests with 70 members of her crew, trapped in her body.

Six members of the crew of the submarine were rescued, when she sank, an official announcement from the French Ministry of War and Navy declared.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Aronson, returned yesterday from a trip to Cleveland where they visited relatives and friends. They were accompanied by Mrs. S. Shane of Cincinnati, who returned to her home this morning.

BORAH TURNS DOWN CHANCE TO HEAD DRYS

But Indicates He Will Consider If Progressives Make Coalition TO NAME MEMBER

Nominee Subject to Removal Upon Union

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. July 7.—United States Senator William E. Borah, Rep., of Idaho, was the hero of the Prohibition Party's national convention here today.

For Senator Borah late last night refused the Prohibition Party's nomination for president, but indicated he would consider joining a third party movement in which the united dry and progressive forces might be united.

More than three-fourths of the national convention delegates had joined in an impressive and colorful demonstration for Senator Borah who was assured of the nomination.

Realizing the situation, leaders at once attempted to get in touch with the Idaho Senator to sound his attitude towards accepting the nomination.

But Senator Borah could not be persuaded to do so.

ONE OF 4
Hence, the national convention today was to name one of its veterans party members for president with the understanding that he will withdraw if the Dry-Progressive coalition materializes.

The four men who conferred by telephone with Borah were, D. Leigh Colvin, of New York, National Chairman; Dr. Clinton H. Howard, of Rochester, N. Y., keynote speaker; William D. Upshaw, former Democratic Congressman from Georgia, and E. Howard Cagle, of Indianapolis, candidate for Governor of Indiana.

Howard was deemed a likely nominee for President and Upshaw for Vice-President.

FARMERS MAKE DAMAGE CHECK

Take Inventory of Flooded Areas and Loss of Live Stock.

PORTSMOUTH, July 7.—Southern Ohio farmers today began an inventory of their stock following days of heavy rain that water-logged the area and resulted in extensive damage to livestock and crops.

Clearing skies today lessened that threat of floods as streams and small rivers, which have been flowing to the brim, began to recede gradually. The Ohio and Scioto rivers continued to rise this morning, however. Officials here said the Ohio was rising at the rate of five inches an hour. It was expected to reach a crest of 43 feet today. Flood stage is 50 feet.

Damage to livestock and crops in the southern section was believed to have been considerable as a result of the downpour of rain which soaked farmlands. Swirling streams, which gushed out of their banks, washed out numerous bridges in Gallia, Meigs, Lawrence and Adams counties. Several highways were badly damaged.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars' property damage were being inflicted by swirling flood waters in West Virginia today while preparations were being made to render relief to scores of marooned families.

Student Finds Egg Throwing Expensive And Not So Funny

Perry Garver, aged 20, a student at Ohio State university has probably learned that throwing eggs is not profitable—especially when the "hen-run" is confused with golf balls.

Several weeks ago, Garver in company with three other Ohio State students was driving south on the Senate Trail, north of Circleville, enroute to West Virginia to engage in a golf match.

He decided to have "some fun" went into a store at Columbus purchased a dozen eggs and as he proceeded on his way buried them at passing autos.

BREAKS GLASS
However the bombardment was not as light as he expected and the windshield of three passing cars were broken. The drivers of the cars, C. W. Hoffman of Hill-

Victory Aftermath

To Harry Sexton, secretary to Speaker John Nance Garner of Texas, Democratic nominee for the Vice Presidency, goes the difficult task of answering the thousands of letters and telegrams that inundated the office congratulating the Speaker on his being chosen as running mate to Governor Roosevelt. Sexton is shown in Garner's office hard at work on his big job.

PER CENT LOW ON FIRST DAY

Postmaster Says Only 3 Per Cent of Letters Lacked Required 3-Cent Rate.

Approximately three per cent of the first class mail matter received at the local postoffice Wednesday, the first day of the new 3-cent postal rate, was underpaid in postage stamps, according to Postmaster George P. Foreman.

About 100 pieces of mail were dropped in the boxes without the additional one-cent, required under the new government order. The local post office handles about 3,000 pieces of first class mail each day.

Mr. Foreman thinks the small amount of "deficient" first class postage matter was a good record.

Orders have been received from the postoffice department at Washington, D. C., to return first class letters to the sender when the required three cents postage is not on the envelope.

When the sender is not known, and when there has been at least two cents postage paid, the letter may be delivered with the receiver paying the balance.

Postmaster Foreman announced Thursday that he had received 100,000 of the new 3-cent stamps.

Returned Here

Jesse Accord, formerly of this city, was arrested at Washington C. H. Wednesday night by Deputy Sheriff Bob Armstrong and returned here to face a charge of non-support.

He will be given a hearing before Squire E. C. Friece.

FISTFIGHT LEADS DEPUTIES TO DUEL

PARIS, July 7.—Following a fist fight in the corridors of the chamber of deputies yesterday, two members of parliament, Valensi and Liautey are preparing for a duel.

"Liautey accused me of being a moderate in politics, whereas I am a radical," said Valensi. "He also was trying to have a departmental prefect, whom I recommended, discharged."

"Liautey has named seconds for a duel and I shall name mine as soon as approached."

ROOSEVELT IS ELATED AS AL SUPPORTS HIM

Sees Last Obstacle in White House Path Removed

NO ILL FEELING

Governor to Make Personal Invitation Sunday

ALBANY, N. Y., July 7.—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt was confident today that his path to the White House lies straight and clear ahead of him.

He believes the last obstacle in that path was removed when Governor Alfred E. Smith announced he would support the Democratic party in the coming presidential election.

The governor did not attempt to conceal the fact that he was elated over Smith's decision not to bolt the party. Next to being nominated for the presidency, nothing has happened in the last week which has pleased Mr. Roosevelt more than Smith's announcement that he would support the party.

CONFIDENCE
"Governor Smith's statement confirms my confidence that he would support the Democratic party," was the only comment Governor Roosevelt would make, but he told friends there never had been any doubt in his mind but what "Al" would be regular.

Governor Roosevelt has made it plain he never had any ill feeling toward former Governor Smith. He is confident that by the time the present campaign is in full swing the old friendship between them will be completely restored.

There is every indication that within a short time Governor Roosevelt personally will invite Smith to take the stump this fall in behalf of the Roosevelt-Garner ticket.

WANT SPEECH
If Smith did not make more than one speech during the campaign the Roosevelt campaign managers are confident it would do more than any other single thing to heal the wounds of the national convention and bring every element in the Democratic party solidly in line behind the national ticket.

Reports that Smith will be content to stand on his statement, and that he will take a European vacation when the campaign enters the home stretch in the fall so he will not be available for any speeches, are not taken seriously in the Roosevelt camp.

Governor Roosevelt will be in New York on Sunday. It is possible he may then extend to Smith a personal invitation to aid him in the campaign.

TO MAKE REPLIES
The governor has decided that during the campaign he, personally, will reply only to statements from President Hoover, and that he will leave it to others to answer cabinet members and other Republican orators.

For this reason he will have no comment on the recent attack made by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde on his reforestation proposal for relieving unemployment. However, Mr. Hyde will be answered by one of the governor's "campaign cabinet."

Seek State Repeal

BISMARCK, N. D., July 7.—Petitions were on file today with the secretary of state which, if found sufficient, will lead to a vote in November on a constitutional amendment to repeal North Dakota's prohibition law.

RUSSIANS EMPLOY TRACING FORCES

Griffin and Mattern, American Pilots Attempting New Around the World Record, Missing Since 3 P. M. Wednesday. Territory Between German Capital and Moscow Scanned

MOSCOW, July 7.—All the resources of the Soviet Government were called into play tonight in an effort to find some trace of Bennett Griffin and James J. Mattern, American flyers, missing since they left Berlin at 3 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time) yesterday for Moscow on their attempted record breaking flight around the world.

By radio and telephone government officials and officers of the Osoviachim, the Soviet Civil Flying organization spread a network of inquiry over the territory between Moscow and Berlin and as far east of the Soviet capital Irkutsk and Kanan.

No cheering message came out of the wilderness to reward them.

PARTY CLASH ON NEW BILL

Garner-Wagner Relief Measure Before House Furnishes Strength Test.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Furnishing a new test of strength between President Hoover and Speaker John N. Garner, the $2,122,000,000 Garner-Wagner Relief program was placed before the house today.

Confident of passage of the conference report on the measure, Democratic leaders planned to limit debate and seek a speedy decision.

One major issue was created between the White House and Democratic leaders as the clash neared—the question of authorizing loans to private industry and individuals for the reconstruction finance corporation.

The conference report permits the corporation to make these loans on adequate security, as demanded by Speaker Garner. This feature was denounced by President Hoover.

Charges of partisan politics were hurled at each other by Republicans and Democrats with Mr. Hoover a candidate for reelection and Speaker Garner the Democratic choice for vice-president. Equally vehement denials of partisanship were made on both sides.

NO WORD
But there was no word of any such landing. The air route between Moscow and Omaha is defined by a number of fueling stations, landing fields and municipalities, and it was difficult to understand why they had not been sighted.

The fact that no one saw or heard the plane from the time it left Berlin last night added to the anxiety, but Soviet officials still held out hope that they might have come down in some isolated spot, a long distance from Moscow of communication, and that word of their safety might come through in a few hours.

PLANS CHANGE IN CITY LINE

Service Director Tells Council of Project To Extend Corporation Limit.

Circleville's corporation line at the Scioto river bridge, W. Mount-st. will be changed, if city council will approve the plans and specifications now being drawn Service Director L. E. Miller told the council Wednesday night at a regular meeting.

The line will be moved to exclude the bridge from the city limits. The county and state would then be responsible for any repairs or accidents at this location.

A petition will be prepared and submitted to the county commissioners for their approval next Monday.

City council is expected to take action on the project at the next meeting, July 20.

Mayor B. T. Hedges reported to council that $70 in fines and $10 license fees were collected during June.

Miss Dungan Returns

Miss Jemma Dungan, E. Miller, who attended the Democratic national convention in Chicago and a meeting of the alumnae of Valparaiso university, Valparaiso, Indiana, arrived home Wednesday night.

I wouldn't have missed the convention for a $1,000. I don't believe I'll ever have a better time," she remarked.

Two of her proud possessors are the personal autographs of Will Rogers and Al Smith.

She was honored at the meeting in Indiana by being elected secretary of the permanent organization of the alumnae. Meetings will be held each year.

KIDNAPED YOUTH RETURNS SAFELY

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 7.—With bedraggled clothes and a bow-tied chin as the only ill effects of his ordeal, Haskell Bohn, 20, was safe at home today after more than six days of captivity in the hands of kidnapers.

Gripping happily over his liberation the youth said: "ETAOO, the young son of Gebhard C. Bohn, wealthy real-estate magnate, gave a fully narrative of his experiences."

Whether the demand of $5,000 ransom had been paid to the kidnapers to effect young Bohn's release was not known. Although the youth said he believed his abductors had received the ransom, members of his family refused to confirm or deny the report that the tribute had been paid.

Akron Searches

NEW YORK, July 7.—Pursuing its diligent search for the missing Ketch Curlew and its crew of six American amateur seamen unreported since setting out in a Nantuxk Point-Nantuxk race, the giant United States dirigible Akron today was to reach Bermuda.

Commander A. H. Brumley, who took the ship out of Lakeland, N. J., to aid in the hunt, reported by radio he failed so far to find trace of the lost vessel. He made 90 miles off Bermuda.

Naval airplanes and surface ships continued to search the Atlantic for the Curlew.

Inauguration Day

The Dictionary of United States History says that the choice of March 4 as inauguration day dates back to 1783. The first Wednesday in January, 1789, was fixed upon for the choice of the electors; the first Wednesday in February for the voting, and the first Wednesday in March, which came upon the 4th, for the inauguration. The twelfth amendment makes this the constitutional day.

A Telephone Can Help You to Get More Out of Life

If your house has no telephone, you make it very difficult for people to be friendly to you. And you handicap yourself in being a good friend to others. Time is valuable, of course, but a friendly visit by telephone only takes minutes—and it can mean so much.

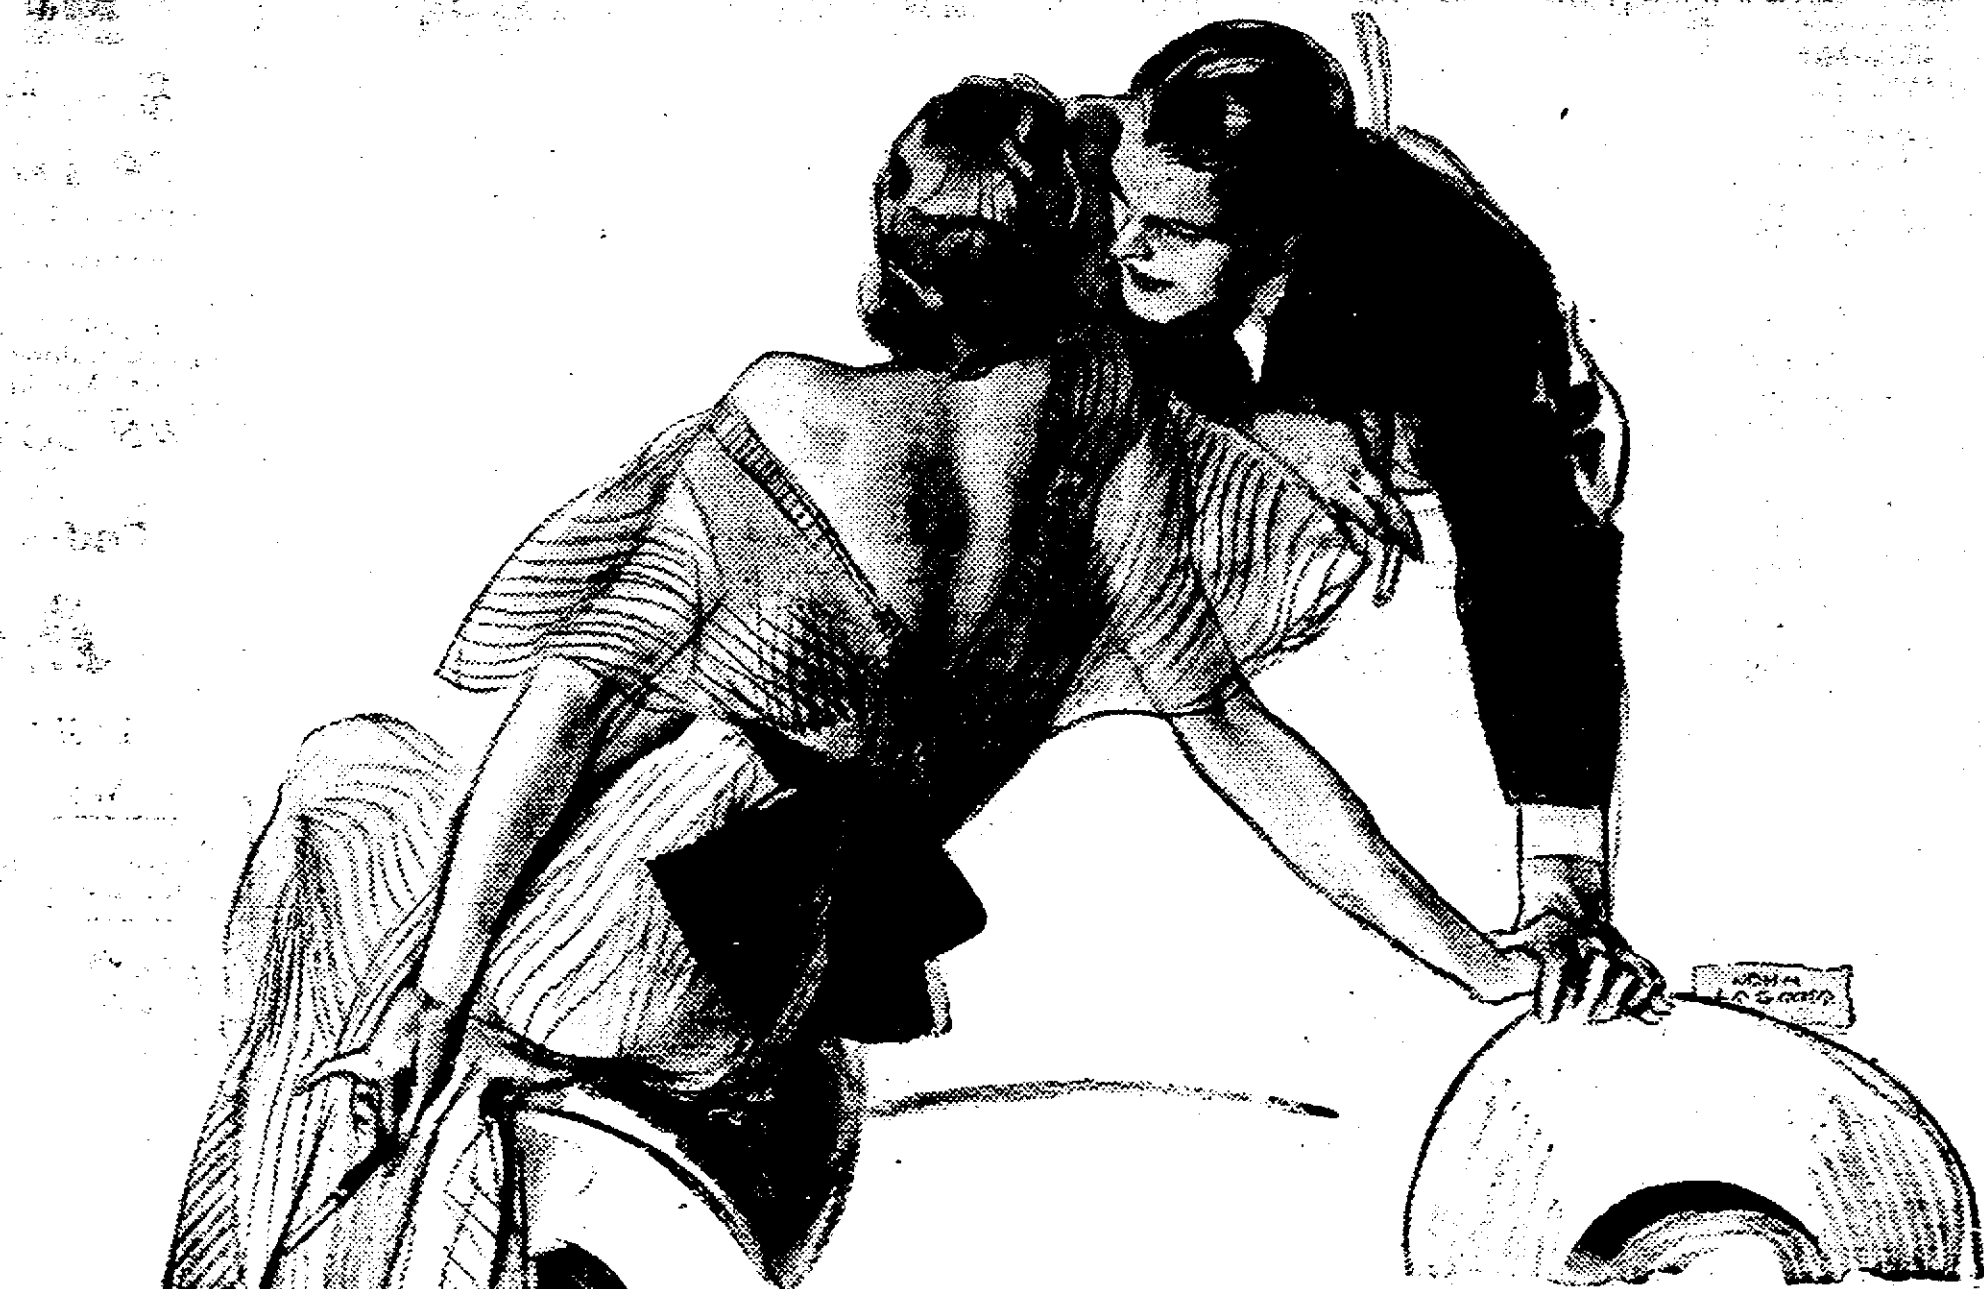

Of course a telephone has hundreds of purposes, in helping to protect your family, in helping you to make money, etc. But best of all, we like to think of a telephone as something that keeps people happy—keeps them together and makes them friends.

Order your telephone installed—today.

DO YOU INHALE?

"We've spilled the beans" in the smoker's interest

DO you inhale? "You've spilled the beans!" said the cigarette trade when first we asked this simple question—a question which long had been treated with silence that would "shame a Sphinx!"

Why? Wasn't the subject vital enough to pursue? Or, was there a hidden reason for the general avoidance of the question by others?

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has chosen to raise this question . . . because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? Of course you do—and so, in the smoker's interest, Luckies have not feared to "spill the beans."

The Season of Sunburn

DURING July and August sunburn takes precedence over the weather as the principal topic of conversation. This is the season when one-half the population is compelled to listen to the other half about seashore tan or complaining about blistered shoulders
and arms.

Sun baths have effected almost miraculous cures in cases of tuberculosis of the bone and glandular diseases and a good coat of tan or case of sunburn adds credence to the seashore vacation yarn, but there is also grave danger from sunburn. Inflammation, fever, infection and even death may follow injurious exposure to the sun, the burn of which is not different from that of fire or steam.

Good rules for bathers to follow
are to keep out of the sun from between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. except for brief periods, to cultivate tan gradually, and not seek from a week-end trip to return home with a certificate of tan to a season at the seashore.

Just now, when the practice of exposing children to the sun for health reasons has brought about
a special garb for their sunning, the warning is in place—that the periods of exposure be brief, and above all else, the head should be covered and the eyes protected by dark glasses.

Sun baths without burns, but
with all the tan that the individual's complexion entitles him to, is the ideal to be sought, and in the attainment of this all the beneficial effects of the sun may be gained without the maladies
which wait upon burns.

Lawlessness

REVIEWING the stupendous collapse of public order
which results from the bottling and blind-pigging era under which the whole country lies stricken,
nothing in the sorrowful narrative is so filled with poignancy and condemnation as the sacrifice of youth on the altar of illicit greed.

Youth is the agent of the boot-legger and of the blind pig. Youth fills in the pool room and the "soft drink" stand is the ready conspirator in the profitable contest against law. Youth, drifting unhappily on the fringe of social conformity, is the inevitable captive of the "easy road." The story of prohibition violation is the story of youth, thousands and thousands of them, plying their illicit trade, running their risks of prison and death, and hardening themselves to a lifetime of outlawry.

What manner of men do these become, these young men who,
with wealth and indulgence as the prize, throw their energies into the scale of lawlessness? What is the atmosphere they create? What of the children they bring into the world? What of the future effect on this country's national life of a new generation of men and women brought up in a tradition of contempt for the law and tutored
only in the desperate conditions of the new underworld?

These are the questions which must root every decent citizen in his tracks and make him examine the depth of his heart for the solution.

Interchange of Currency

FREE interchange of the currencies of Canada and the United States encounters some obstacles at points distant from the international border, but there seems to be nothing to prevent it in the border strip.

Americans cannot be compelled by their government to accept Canadian currency, which is not legal tender in the United States,
but their government should be prevailed upon to approve and promote the free interchange of the two currencies. It would be eminently desirable if commercial interests across the line would give their official approval to the acceptance of Canadian currency
in the daily transaction of business.

Every argument is on the side of free interchange. Under normal conditions there is no difference in the two currencies. Most of the time the money of the dominion is as valuable as the corresponding American coin or note, and sometimes a trifle more. The difference either way is very small. For free interchange there is the argument that Canadians are inconvenienced
and humiliated when their money is declined in the United States. It is not improbable that the United States is losing much Canadian business because of it.

It is just as important to encourage the interchange of money
as the interchange of goods, and yet the United States has devoted its efforts to making it easy for Canadians to cross the international line, but not in the United States. Find it to their financial advantage to encourage a wider acceptance of the currency of their friendly neighbor.

"EMBERS OF LOVE"

By HAZEL LIVINGSTON

COPYRIGHT 1931 BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

SYNOPSIS
Lily Lou Lansing, pretty, young telephone operator, lives with her married sister in moderate circumstances. She is torn between desire for an operatic career and love for wealthy Ken Sargent. Following a party at Ken's home, Lily Lou realizes they are unsuited socially and decides to give him up. Ken overrules her objections and she accepts his proposal of marriage.

CHAPTER FOURTEEN

Ken came for her before 10:30.
"What did you tell your father?"
"Now listen, Lily Lou. We want
"Nothing," he grinned.
"But, Ken—"
"How would you like to drive
over to some other county to be married? If they get my name, here in Oakland—well, it will be in all the papers, and by Monday we'll be surrounded by reporters and what not—"

"Where could we go?"
"How about Lake county? Would you like that?"
"Today?"
"Why not?"
It seemed mad, and romantic.
All those miles.

She left a note for May—"Won't be back until late tonight. Gone for a drive. Love, Lily Lou."
Looking back at it afterward, it seemed the happiest day of her life. Not even her wedding day was happier. The top of the car was down. They drove, bareheaded, letting the wind whiff through their hair, turning to each other to laugh, just out of sheer joy.

"We ought to make time," Ken said, but he stopped at every orange juice stand, every little sandwich place along the way. They drank the frosty orange juice, nibbled on hot, juicy sandwiches. They stopped in fields of wild flowers, to gather great bunches of pale yellow and orchid tinted mariposa lilies...
exotic, lovely things, swaying on their slender stems like butterflies.

"But they'll die unless we have some water to put them in!"
Ken wouldn't go down to the river bed without her. He said he wouldn't trust her out of his sight until they had the license. She might change her mind. So they ran down the hill together, Lily Lou slipping and sliding, screaming
with helpless laughter.

They soaked the newspapers they had brought in the shallow water, wrapped the lilies carefully. They sat on a boulder, in the shade of a stunted oak tree, and watched two great gold and green dragonflies
whizzing over the water.

They ought to hurry... But it was too perfect. Lily Lou looked up at the cloudless azure sky, back to the sprawling California hills, already faintly golden under the summer sun. Her eyes met Ken's.
"Let's not get married. Let's stay here forever," she smiled.
"Wonderful idea!"

But presently he was afraid the license bureau would close before they could get there. He kept looking at his watch, fussing about it.
Lily Lou wanted to laugh and cry
all at once... dear, darling Ken,
afraid they'd lose a day...
At Lakeport they asked an old man lounging in the shade which was the hall of records.

Went into the cool, dim building,
out of the blazing sun.

Lily Lou was a little nervous, but Ken wasn't. They gave their names, and ages, said they hadn't been married before.

"So you're a year older than I am," she said, when they came out.

There was a flat tire on the mountain at Calistoga and Ken discovered there was no jack in the car.

"To tell you the truth, not quite."
"You said twenty-one!"
"Sure, a fellow has to be twenty-one, and I will be in two months."
"Oh—"
"Are you going to worry?"
"Heavens, no!"
They drove over to the lake, to look at it. "Let's go over to our cottage, and get a boat and some bathing suits," Ken suggested.
"And let's get some things, and cook—"

They had a gorgeous time. They put on their bathing suits and chuggled in the motor boat. Ken operating the engine, Lily Lou dragging her heels over the side of the boat.

Then they tied it to a little broken down wharf on an island, all overgrown with willows and tall green brushes. The water was deep and clear there. They stood on the wharf and dived into the water,
swimming lazily, treading water,
climbing back on the boat to lie in the sun. Then back into the water...
"Like Mr. and Mrs. Robinson Crusoe," Ken laughed.
The sun dropped, lower and lower
in the sky.

"Heavens, it's nearly 6. We've got a long way to get you back home tonight."
Six! Lily Lou had thought it was about four. Such a long trip ahead
... still, what of it? They laughed, climbed back into the boat, steered
for the Sargents' camp.

Lily Lou was dressed before Ken was, had a fire going, was busy frying potatoes, broiling steak, when he appeared.

Ken made a salad, mixing the dressing expertly. Together they watched the coffee pot, improvised a strawberry shortcake out of a bakery cake from which Ken prodigally
cut the icing, and Lily Lou piled on mashed strawberries and thick, whipped cream.

Fun! They sat back in their chairs, on the porch, watched the sun, a glamorous, golden ball
now...
"Oh, darn the California gin law
... why couldn't we have been married today, and then we wouldn't have to go back—"
"So we could have all this fun
over again on Monday! Coming up here again, and all... Oh Ken, aren't you happy? I am—"
But for a little moment she wasn't. Ken's impatience frightened her a little... Maybe they shouldn't have come here... and mother and dad just across the lake, perfectly ignorant of what she was doing...

The moment passed.
The drive home, under the stars,
was magic... They couldn't hurry...
... it was too perfect.

There was a flat tire on the mountain at Calistoga, and Ken discovered there was no jack in the car.

He climbed back in, grinning.
"What are you going to do, Ken?"
"What do you suggest?"
They sat there, on the mountain,
at two o'clock in the morning and rocked with crazy, happy laughter.
"You see," he said, "not even a flat tire can dampen my ardor—"

Give Baby Proper Food, Sunshine and Air to Build Good Strong Bones

Deformities Due to Rickets, Such as Crooked Spines, Pigeon Breasts and Bow Legs, Seldom Afflict Children That Are Well Fed and Robust.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

DEFFECTIVE development of the skeleton is the cause of many abnormal conditions found in the bony system. At birth the bones are in an immature state. They are composed largely of cartilage, a grisly
like substance through which there are small areas of earthy material.

The soft portions of the bone gradually become hardened by the deposit of lime and phosphorus, so that at the age of twenty-five years the bony structure of the body has reached perfection. From then until fifty there is little change in the bones,
but after the age of fifty they become thinner, lighter and more brittle.

Defects of the bones in baby-hood and youth are due to some deficiency in the diet, and as the result of improper diet rickets is very common. In this disease the bones are abnormally soft, causing various deformities, of which pigeon breast and bow legs are the most characteristic.

The symptoms of rickets are not particularly definite, vague pains in the spine, knee or hip being the most common.

Thanks to the great progress made in medicine the extremely disfiguring deformities of crooked
back, which used to be so common,
are rarely seen today. The general public has learned that sunshine, fresh air, cod-liver oil and a well-balanced diet, including the vitamins, are of value in treating this disease.

Tuberculosis of the bones is a

AT THE CLIFTONA
Edmund Lowe, famed for wis-cracking in pictures, carries his sense of humor to off-screen activities.

The actor's most recent yarn,
which happens to deal with himself, was related to Claudette Colbert and Stuart Erwin at the New York Paramount studio, where the three were engaged in filming "The Misleading Lady."

This picture of an enraged suitor who abducts a girl refusing his proposal of marriage, and makes her like it will open at the Clif-tona, Friday and Saturday.

Son of a California judge, it didn't take young Lowe long to discover that Sam Jose attorneys considered it good business to cater to Judge Lowe's youngster.
He decided to capitalize.

"Perhaps I was the world's youngest racketeer," said Lowe, "I gathered up all the papers I could find in the vicinity of my home
and stood on a nearby corner
where most of the lawyers passed.
Nine out of ten of them paid me a nickel per paper. Business was marvelous until one day I had happened by. He paid me a nickel for a paper and seemed very pleased with my enterprise until he noticed that the paper was more evening—with a hairbrush!"

The Daily Horoscope

Thursday, July 7, 1932

People who have started new business during the past three days are likely to meet with their first difficulties today. It may prove a trying time for those who are working on small capital. Yet, it should be borne in mind today that fortune favors the brave.

Employers and people in authority may find the morning hours upsetting. There is need to handle matters affecting interiors and helpers with tact and diplomacy.
This is no time to take a heavy hand in labor questions. During the coming few years the signs point to vast improvements for the working people. And these will come about through friendly co-operation between employers and employees.

After the noon hour, the indications favor those who possess artistic ability. A good time for them to get busy and actively express their gifts. Art exhibitions would prove successful this afternoon.
Those engaged in social affairs will find this a most agreeable day.

The night hours are seen to be adverse for all those who dabble in spiritualism. The senses are easily deceived at this time and everyone needs to examine all propositions carefully. Not a time to seek strange pleasures.

Children born on this date, are kind and sympathetic but sensitive and easily offended. They are cautious in all their plans and later
will show good business ability.
Naturally shrewd, they will earn money, save and invest wisely.
These children will probably become good managers when grown.
Lent in their judgment of others; find an excuse for the shortcomings of their playmates.
Fond of music, but may not develop the talent. Disappointment may cause a morbid state. Girls born on this date are homesick.

Some of the noted personages
born on this date are:
Felicien Rops, 1833, Belgian painter and engraver; Sen. William Ernest Mason, 1850, philanthropist;
William Pettit Griffith, 1815, English architect and archeologist.

The happiest person is the one that hasn't anything to scold about except famine styles.

The standard of VALUE

FOR 25 years, Kellogg's Corn Flakes have been the leader
— simply because they have always been the best corn flakes possible to make.

Today, you get a delicious flavor and crispness in Kellogg's that no other corn flakes can equal. And you always get oven-fresh corn flakes—assured by the sealed inside WAXTITE bag, which is a patented Kellogg feature.

Insist on genuine Kellogg's when you buy corn flakes.
Substitutes are seldom offered in a true spirit of service.

Kellogg's are personally guaranteed by W. K. Kellogg:
"If you don't think them the finest corn flakes you ever ate, return the empty red-and-green package and we will return your money." Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Matmen Meet In Olympic Tryout

COLUMBUS, July 7.—The canvas of the Ohio State University's gym echoed with groans, grunts and thuds this morning as a few of America's amateur wrestling aces practiced winding and unwinding themselves for the start of the final Olympic trials here this afternoon.

The boys, any one of whom is plenty able to take care of himself in a dark alley on a dark night, weigh in at 10 o'clock this morning. And pity the poor scales, for it is estimated that the aggregate total of the weights of these young giants is somewhere in the neighborhood of nine tons.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the weight of the Olympic aspirants—there are 118 of them—will give the gymnasium floor a creak. And when they finish wiping the floor with each other, an expert crew of judges, referees and other kinds of officials will have decided upon 14 of them to comprise the Red, White and Blue team for the Olympics.

Until the 14 best are selected the matmen will struggle through four sessions today and tomorrow. The tournament here is in charge of Dr. R. G. Clapp, secretary of the American Olympic wrestling committee. Hugo Otopalik, Iowa State College and coach of the American wrestling team, will be on hand, however, to watch the development of the squad.

SHOWS AT CIRCUS FRIDAY

Among the feature attractions to be seen Friday at the Lewis Brothers' circus to be held at Heise Field, E. Mound-st., will be a dainty and pretty little circus star who today is regarded as the original "Polly of the Circus."

She is Miss Ethel Lewis, who was discovered some five years ago in an orphanage at Selma, Ala., by Paul M. Lewis, owner of Lewis Bros. Circus.

Another of the 23 acts which will make up the circus program here will be the world famous Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey.

The Rooney act is noted for its clever combination of wholesome clowning and superb equestrianism, and is regarded as one of the foremost riding acts in the world today.

The internationally renowned Rhoda Royal horses will be seen performing the same feats that have thrilled Royal European families for over a score of years.

Afternoon and evening performances will be given starting at 2:15 p. m. and 8:15 p. m. Doors to the circus will open an hour earlier.

The circus is being sponsored by the local Kiwanis and Rotarian clubs.

Mending Celluloid.
Ether has a wonderful effect in keeping broken parts of celluloid together. The several pieces carefully in place and run some ether along the crack. The celluloid will then soften, and naturally will fall into one piece again when dry, becoming perfectly hard.

Vacations are coming and the "old bus" will need a thorough lubrication before grinding out hundreds of miles over hot roads. Of course, you will want a well lubricated before you start that trip—but how about NOW?

Ahead of you are three months of delightful driving. Get ready to enjoy yourself—but first, give your car that good lubrication job she deserves.

We suggest you drive in today.

Coffee Bean Problem

The coffee bean is an extremely resistant substance; it is very tough; it is almost impossible to powder it or disintegrate it by pounding it, and hence it is quite impracticable to attempt to grind or reduce to a powder the green coffee bean before extraction. It this could take place the actual labor of extracting the caffeine would be very much decreased.

Sublime to Ridiculous

The last words of the great seem to have a fascination for mankind, and in this connection it is amusing to recall that one biographer of William Pitt, the celebrated English statesman, quotes Pitt's last words as "Oh, my country! How I leave my country," whereas another biographer makes the statesman say, "I think I could eat one of Bellamy's meat pies!"
